Chew and Swallow

Take a bite of a yummy banana. Chew, chew, chew! Down it slides like a little slide at the park, all the way into your tummy.

The Tummy Hug

Your tummy is a warm, squishy bag inside you. It gives the banana a big squeezy hug and mixes it all around, like stirring soup in a pot.

> TALK ABOUT IT
> What is the tummy doing to the banana?

The Long Curly Tube

Now guess what happens next! The mush travels through a long, curly tube, coiled up like a sleepy snake. The wow part: it is longer than your whole bed, but folds up small inside you!

TALK ABOUT IT

How long is that curly tube?

Feel It Gurgle

Try this now: put your hand flat on your tummy and stay very quiet. Do you feel little gurgles and bumps? That is your busy tummy working hard, mixing your food!

TALK ABOUT IT

The gurgles mean your tummy is working.

Thank You, Busy Tummy

Chew it, swallow it, and your tummy hugs and mixes it so your body can grow. Pat your tummy and say, "Thank you, busy tummy, for helping me grow!"

Check your wonder

1 What does your tummy do to the banana?

- A. Hugs and mixes it
- B. Freezes it

2 How long is the curly tube inside you?

- A. Longer than your bed
- B. Tiny as a button

3 Why does your body grab the good stuff from food?
