Munch, Munch, Munch

Meet a tiny green caterpillar on a leaf in the garden. All day she eats and eats, getting fatter and longer — like you growing out of last year's shoes! This little eater is going to surprise us.

TALK ABOUT IT

Find what made the caterpillar grow.

Into the Cozy Case

One day she stops eating and hangs upside down, very still. She makes a hard little case around herself called a chrysalis — say it: KRISS-a-liss — like zipping into a cozy sleeping bag. Now guess: what do you think is happening inside that quiet case?

> TALK ABOUT IT
> What's happening inside the quiet case?

Secret Soup Inside

Here's the wow part grown-ups forget: inside, the soft caterpillar mostly turns into goo — almost like soup! Then it slowly rebuilds new parts: thin legs, a curly straw mouth, and folded-up wings. She doesn't just grow wings — she remakes herself into a new shape!

> TALK ABOUT IT
> She turns to goo and rebuilds inside.

Wings Open Wide

When the case finally cracks open, out climbs a butterfly with crinkly wet wings! She pumps them open and lets them dry like wet socks on a line, then flutters away. Eat, rest, change, fly!

TALK ABOUT IT

Find what the caterpillar became.

Eat, Rest, Change, Fly

So remember: a caterpillar eats and grows, hides in a chrysalis, changes inside, and comes out a butterfly. Try it — hug yourself small and still, then open your arms wide and 'fly!' Next time in the garden, look under leaves for a fat caterpillar or a quiet chrysalis hanging like a tiny green jewel.
