What Happens on Diwali Night

Diwali Night

My name is Jai. Tonight is Diwali night. This story tells what usually happens.

Getting Ready

In the evening, I have a warm bath. Then I put on my new orange kurta. It feels soft and special.

The Little Lamps

Nani lights the little clay lamps called diyas. I stand one big step back. I watch the tiny flames glow.

A Short Prayer

Then my family sits together for a short prayer. Nani sings softly, and a small bell rings. I sit quietly with my family.

Visitors

Many people come to visit on Diwali. There are hugs, hellos and lots of talking. Sometimes the house feels busy and loud.

Sweets

We share boxes of sweets with our guests. I usually eat one ladoo. It is round, yellow and sweet.

Bangs Outside

Later, some neighbours light sparklers and fireworks outside. The bangs can be very loud. Many children feel surprised by the bangs.

A Quiet Break

That is okay. I can try asking Nani for a quiet break in my room. We read a book together until I feel calm.

Happy and Sleepy

Diwali night usually ends late. The diyas still glow by the door. I go to bed happy and sleepy.
